

Introducing my Book

OBLITERATING YOUR FREEDOM

By: Christoph-Peter: Engelhardt

No living homo sapien is above the law. That goes for the King/Queen, any Politician, Corporate Elite, all sorts and kinds of interloping Bureaucrats, self appointed controlling Fat Cats, and/or any other commoner on the land.

The well known modern day neo-con theory stipulates that, law is a legislative act stemming from the will of the stronger elite over the weaker commoner. To comprehend the general thought of this book you need to perish any foolish notion that some human beings might be more equal than others. Equality before the Law, for all of us, must be absolute and paramount, otherwise we have exactly nothing.

Throughout this book I respectfully invoke the right to speak out. Then again, I will do this best by staying away from this crazy popular and modern notion of "Political Correctness". Because political correctness is a kind of self imposed silent censorship; a soft mention on free speech. I, the author, am anything but politically correct. I do not practice hate speech but I speak my opinion as I see things gradually deteriorating in favour of the manipulating political and corporate elite. This is not a scientific dissertation, nor was it ever intended to be. It is a simple book on setting things in their rightful socio-economic and political-legislative place. It shall be my personal small contribution to the fight against the hypocrites; namely; the Political elite, the Bureaucrats, the Corporate Fat Cats and any other self appointed Controlling Agent such as our Legal Tyrants.

I would like to wake you up and show you another peaceful revolutionary way to practice freedom to consent. I'm not trying to introduce a new democracy, God forbid; I'm trying to show you a new pathway to the real freedom that was given to you by your Creator and usurped by the existing Plutocracy, those we now blindly and angst fully serve. By the way, the terms "Democracy" and "Freedom" have absolutely nothing in common. They are two very different Ideologies. One; (Democracy) advocates and silently slides in the notion of an imposition, a dictatorship through the will of the majority. The other (Freedom) advocates your God given right to live responsibly in your state of freedom and to make your own choices without the controlling opinions of the majority. In the case of the latter it may be to your advantage to open your mind. Then again if you are not interested close this book, return it to the retailer, request a refund and close your 25 watt porch light and go back to sleep. I will not fault you for being impunitly usurped by "The Power that be".

It is entirely your choice to consent or not to consent. You are free to choose. But can you live with the consequences? I can and I do.

In this light, I would like to take a few days of your precious time and plant a seed. I need to plant it deep inside your thinking brain, in a place, where only you can go. Should you not have noticed, I'm all about creating doubt, notably; I intend to force you to ask yourselves real important questions of the socio-economic and political nature.

Yes, dare I say it; it is in fact much more about your sanity, yes your possible mental, social, political and spiritual sanity. Having said this, I will not endeavour to give you the answers to combat this well known but hidden social fraudsters' conundrum that we all face together. It is claimed that a mind functions like a parachute in that it works best when it is open. I merely ask questions. Suppose that I want to make you think. In that case; I need to dance around your thinking brain. I would like to give you a very light mental nudge, a gentle mental toss about.

Finally it is incumbent upon the reader; to inevitably give himself the answers so peace may enter in his world and love will be the gift he will give himself. The basic tenet of my thoughts is to be made clear, and it would go something like this: If my name shows up in/on a subject matter or on a document then I'm entirely responsible for what happens to me. Nobody else is in control of my life but I. And no external bureaucrat, Judge and/or police will make me do and/or sign what I do not want to do or sign. This should by now be crystal clear and no one else is ever forced to agree with me.

This book is about to embark on some very sensitive subject matters. I am about to hit on the idea of a "Peaceful Revolution", a revolution without violence. I do not foster or represent any organization or people that bring about change through violence. I hate violence; because violence has never solved a single problem and/or changed anything, except it fosters a momentary government corporate control schemes that have as objective to scare people into docile obedience so as to satisfy their thirst for power, control and the financial greed of a few elitist fat cats.

The message goes out to power minded Politicians and Bureaucrats be they (Police Officers, Judges and any educated and uneducated pencil pushers) who are practicing random violence in order to implement their twisted civil rule ideas. Their modus operandi is totally unacceptable. It is proposed that these power allegiances should read this book and maybe learn to heed the idea of a peaceful revolution. In essence I publically proclaim: "No one can make me do what I don't want to do, or in legalese language, no one can enforce anything upon me without my expressive consent and willing submission." Because, it is abundantly clear and well known that in civil cases; everything one does, is based in commerce and for it to be known as commerce it also is all about the primacy of equal treatment stipulated in contracts. Now, if there is no sanctioned contract, then there can be no case.

This does not mean that Politicians and Bureaucrats have the duty to leave human beings in peace. The “Powers that be” can only introduce themselves into my peace if I am seen to have breached the peace by harming other human beings, by damaging other people’s property and/or by committing fraud in my everyday life and/or contracts, nothing else is acceptable.

This book is about six sensitive subject matters. Namely:

- Critical thinking fostering a learning process by understanding the current known social, political and economical Public Relation schemes.
- Corporate Greed leading to Bio-Terrorism and resulting in the desired depopulation effect.
- Big Corporate Banks and their trickeries leading to the title of fraudsters.
- Politicians, Bureaucrats; the unholy alliance, and;
- Terrorism: the man made fear factor.

Put all these subject matters together and get to know the modern unholy alliance. The man made fear system, which is my favourite theme, the fictitious legal entity called “The ARTIFICIAL PERSON” vs. the actual Human Being in flesh, blood and spirit. It is also about all these subjects and their interrelationships creating the idea of becoming a cheat, a liar, and a fraudster.

I sincerely invite you to investigate the bureaucrats’ means and ways to attain and control a hidden agenda. Politicians always have a hidden agenda. Because in politics, nothing happens without a purpose; absolutely nothing, not even the actions of a power puffed-up pencil pusher.

Chapter “One” is about the notion of critical thinking, which fosters a thing known as the “learning process”. It is here that we will explore the treasonous and seditious ideas of actually thinking for ourselves. We will follow its three main intellectual operations, them being; Grammar (know thy words), Dialectic (Logical flow) and Rhetoric (Public presentation) we will expand and shortly explain their basic revolutionary intentions. These should lead us to the knowledge of “How to think?” as opposed to “What to think?” Additionally we will explore the idea that learning is a process the elitist world will not simply dish out on demand, you will obligatorily have to work hard in order to get where you believe you should be.

You need to do these steps by yourself, because we learn through experiences, mistakes and sometimes teachings. Learning must obligatorily be a goal oriented activity and sometimes a structured reading method is recommended, but that is not always the case. Many different brains are wired differently; hence, many learning experiences yield many different learning lessons. Of course, we are very free to accept or ignore what we have learned. So long you are aware that you will have to live with the consequences of your choice.

In addition, let us understand and make some observations in regards to an education methodology called "THE TRIVIUM". This is a priceless revelation.

Here is a short sample:

In order to try to resolve this so called "Social Knowledge Evolution" This book will dance around the idea of "How to think" as opposed to "What to think". The author wants to provide the readers with simple, sustainable and effective solutions on how to think. This is because you never know of the answer until you asked the question. Here are very specific ideas.

- Critical thinking skills are sets of logical questioning processes in order to achieve a base knowledge and actualizing comparative intellectual comprehension of a particular subject and they are foremost important skills to help you to figure out the existing government and corporate Status Quo ideologies.
- How to become immune to government tricks, corporate advertizing and garbage propaganda. Our North-American communities thrive on garbage propaganda.
- How our education system has become subservient to corporate wants so as to ensure that we all grow up to become non questioning good consumers, not only of goods but most assuredly of socio-economic and political ideas. Here, thought control is the ultimate goal.

Further to our readings we will familiarize ourselves with the Status Quo and its pharsical and ridiculous stance due to the absence of critical thinking. We will investigate a method where you will learn your way out of such problems.

Finally, we shall also explore the importance of maintaining the Status Quo through deception which is created by Public Relation (PR) schemes coupled with deceptive marketing plans, which in turn create deep seated feelings of inadequacy.

Chapter "Two" My case in point; namely, the "Big Pharmaceutical" and the so called "Big Natural Compound Supplements" greed packed industries. These systems will say and do anything to make you believe that their products are the ultimate solutions to your ailments. I call this the gentile introduction to Bio-Terrorism without the label, of course.

I will try to shine my hard opinionated attitude light onto this money making arrangement directed at the property of the citizen sheep being the Old and mainly the destitute Sick.

It is also about the tricking of the mind, by creating a chemical dependency, hence creating the economic paradigm of a “returning customer” through actions that make people sick or keep them sick in perpetuity with impunity. The reader will be led behind the symptomatic treatment world scene as opposed to the causal treatment world, both treatment philosophies will reveal some big reality check, surprises and mostly money driven schemes, where the well being of a customer/patient comes very last on their scale of priority, where money making is the paramount ideology. I shall also take a hard look at a new hidden idea of government sponsored bioterrorism used for population control, and NO we are not introducing a new kind of conspiracy theory. I have no theory to conspire with.

The reader will only be given a faceoff to reality supported by real existing government documents.

The main economic paradigm sets out to shoulder the following Status Quo statements:

- If the patient is sick, keep him sick. Give him access to medication that is not really addressing the cause but only the symptoms. The pain will keep him coming back for more medication.
- Medication always brings about side effects. The answer to side effects is to medicate more. Here again the pain will keep the patient coming back for more medication.
- If the patient is not really sick, make him sick through food intake or negative environmental conditions. These negative conditions will inevitably bring him to a physician, who will prescribe medication and so goes the hamster wheel.

Compared to the 19th century the pharmaceutical industry not only has succeeded in obscuring, camouflaging and disguising the “Illness” but the specialized word spinsters have falsely labelled it “Symptomatic treatment progress through scientific research”. Modern physicians are trained to only prescribe medication that has passed the pharmaceutical industry litmus. I term it “The present day financial smokescreen tactics”. Does it really take 7 years of medical studies to simply become a corporate pharmaceutical government approved drug pusher?

Chapter “Three” will introduce the idea of “Commercial Entities”, also called “ARTIFICIAL PERSON” and known as CORPORATIONS, with its associated notion of Commerce and its long reaching arm in their exercise of subverting a nation. Powerful CORPORATIONS are also well known as the “man behind the curtain”. I shall endeavour to shed some light onto these artificial persons and find out as to what they really are, how and who created them and for what purpose. I do this because there is much more to these corporate fat cats than simple financial profits. We will endeavour to understand their subversion techniques and their main stages, but these are coupled with a political arm which practices demotivation that demoralizes the best of us.

Chapter “Four” We will amuse ourselves with the fraudulent politicians and their boot licking bureaucrats, which I call “the Poisonous Serpents”. We will explore the essence of their unholy alliance, gain knowledge of the different illusionary branches of government. Here we will also approach the 9/11 myth and its political fallout consequences. The reader should know and clearly see that in this world; there are leaders who produce and bring about new ideas that foster real changes. And then, there are followers that only take and act as sheep, and then there are the corporate hypocrites that only live for the passion of controlling other people’s lives. I ask the question of which group are you? I’m a producing and providing leader because I make it a point to create something tangible that will help others. As real producers we have only Innovation as a standard. I also make it a point to know my enemy inside out.

Chapter “Five” In this chapter I seek to set out the grand ideology that endorses the meaning of the exiting modern man made definition of Terrorism and, of course, all the its dictatorial political and economic fall out benefits; Its basic paradigm created by some strange fudged smokescreen beliefs which accentuates the knowledge and their transgressions through make belief and symptomatic cultural inductions of security rituals. I’m floating the taboo of actual terrorism which serves very distinctive and planned socio-economic goals hidden behind the primary belief of a responsive and dispatched government security apparatus. The Western World’s definition of terrorism is nothing more than a fictitious socio-political control mechanisms that is based on deploying fear mechanisms to serve the belief of a very naïve view of what terrorism really is and most probably dictated to a population at large using the hidden instituted oligarchy to wage secret wars against the free people on the land.

Chapter “Six” invokes the reality between the legal fictitious entity called an “ARTIFICIAL PERSON” vs. the true Human Being in flesh, blood and spirit. In all my actions as a free thinking responsible man, or what is also known as a “Sovereign on the land”. I have but one way of dealing with any so called “Legal Busy Bodies” (LBB) I simply don’t consent to their harassment tactics. I simply demand my Common-Law rights to be left alone and not to be harassed by any of its agents or representatives. Provide me with a proof of civil contract that forces me to deal with you. In the matter of commerce, everything one does is based on commerce. Hence you must provide a dignified contract. No contract no case.

The so identified “ARTIFICIAL PERSON” is a fictitious creation entirely made up, out of thin air, and it was stuck on to us without our express consent by the de facto Canadian Government, which is trying very hard to bamboozle us into believing that they are real as opposed to their own fiction.

I want to have the freedom to choose and to live by the consequences of my choices. I am responsible for myself and no appointed entity will ever speak on my behalf. I have the natural right, as a breathing human being, to make decisions for myself and this without any political and/or legal intervention that forces me to live my life under the yoke of imposing bureaucracies. It is very simple: "Get the hell out of my hair".

I want my powers back. I want nothing less. And if you are somewhat interested in obtaining additional information about the powers of a living breathing human being as opposed to a legal fiction called an "ARTIFICIAL PERSON under the law", then follow my thoughts. I will probably rock your world. I work and base myself on a popular dictum that states "...What you don't know... well... you don't know. But once you've learned something, then there is no going back" you have from that point on effectively crossed the barrier and there is no way back." This is called social knowledge evolution.

The Questions I seek to ask is. Who in this world ever knows something? As it stands today, much information is thrown about and around, but it seems clear that we as reading consumers don't know much. And we are kept in the dark side of the cave. The best place to hide some important information is to exercise an information overload, because the reading lemmings only skim their readings as they go on and create their own opinions from the titles of the articles they never critically read.

I only ask that the reader opens his mind and as such asks how to engage in the rules of due diligence. Don't believe anything at face value. Always do the research yourself. In the end I don't ask you to believe in my words on their face value. After proper and sound due diligence practices, believe yourself, no one else.

Consider what history has given price and what many of the most popular political, economic and/or social leaders had and have to say about the whole dirty make believe social environment. I dare to declare that we all live in a de-responsibilized bamboozled choice society, and you are never told what the real elitist intent is. You are asked to choose a situation without knowing its real consequences. By the time you wake up it is usually too late and you have become an enslaved subject to the Crown. Never mind realizing who the Crown really is.

This book sets out to enlighten you about these strange and hidden facts and what you could do about them. You are never required to do anything. No one is required to agree, but everyone is required to learn and to think critically.

Welcome to a little bit of reality and maybe a very small part of some truth. But the final point is this: If you have carefully attended to your high school readings you should know by now that there is a well known Greek concept called “The Noble Lie”. The noble lie uses words to trick you out of your liberty; to prevent you from making informed decisions and a noble lie, denies you the ability to pursue and attain your happiness.

I’m Chris Engelhardt and I hope that you will read the book.
